

Fantastic? They can't even survive a party!

THE Fantastic Four gang were trying their best to keep up with the English party scene last night after their movie premiere in London's Leicester Square.

Gorgeous Jessica Alba, Chris Evans, Ioan Gruffudd and Michael Chiklis hit trendy restaurant Cocoon in Piccadilly — but it looks like they couldn't handle the pace. Alba — who changed out of a full-length gold gown into a sexy black number for the after-party — was helped out of the venue by her burly bodyguards, while Chris Evans looked slightly worse for wear as he clambered into a cab with a mystery woman. Welsh actor Ioan, who plays Mr Fantastic, and Michael Chiklis — The Thing — were very sensible as they left early with their partners and family... at 12.30am!

And the gang will have to do it all again tonight as we can reveal Chris has booked out a special VIP area in Chinawhite to celebrate his 26th birthday today. We're told the actor and his co-stars have been offered a free bar tab. It looks like it's clubbing time!

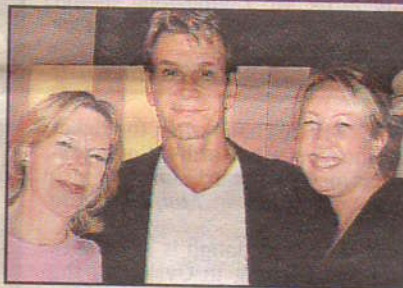

Oh, I think I might die today

Worse for wear: after attending the premiere of Fantastic Four last night, IT girl Hofit Golan and Die Another Day star Rick Yune look wrecked at Boujis last night

TV presenter Chris Tarrant, is over the moon as she picked up her prize. But some acerbic onlookers couldn't help but comment on the fact that the already-orange-skinned 53-year-old clearly didn't need any more tanning assistance.
