STAR QUALITY

This mini from Therapy at House of Fraser combines two of this season's most playful trends – ruffles and star print – to adorable effect. It has a romantic, girlish yet urban look that is just the right side of sweet. £28; 0870 160 7270

CHEAP TRICK

Waist-clinching belts sound good but when the holes are in the wrong places you're left choosing between the squeeze or the hula-hoop effect. This leather and stretch combination from Peacocks solves the problem neatly. £5; 02920 270222

STELLA LOVES...

Compiled by Nisha Lilia Dui

THIS WEEK'S MUST DO, SEE, BUY 17 February 2008

If ever a woman wanted a champion, it is obviously Laetitia Pilkington.' So said Virginia Woolf of the prostitute, poetess and protégée of Jonathan Swift who dazzled London society with her intoxicating mix of scandal and intellect. Her biography, 'Queen of the Wits', by Norma Clarke, is published this Thursday by Faber and Faber. £20

WE LOVE THE NEW LILY BAG FROM DOLCE & GABBANA: the compact shape, the jewel-toned studs, the zipped compartments and the little wrist strap make this one of the naggiest, most exotic-looking bags to take you into summer.

£690; 020 7495 9250

Just the tonic

Fever Tree mixers were the world's first all-natural range when they launched three years ago. Now the fabulously fresh and fizzy tonic water is available sweetened with fruit sugars (rather than cane) for a lighter, lower-calorie drink. £2.99 for 4; 020 7349 4922

LOWER SLAUGHTER MANOR

(named after the Saxon for marshes rather than any butchering practices) is the latest hotel to join the Relais & Châteaux stable.

The award-winning restaurant and beautiful Cotswolds setting make it a fabulous spot for a large lunch and a long walk. 00800 2000 0002
